Tornado Spectral Systems Appoints Scott Baker as New CEO

December 3, 2018. Toronto, Canada – Tornado Spectral Systems Inc., a leading manufacturer of Raman spectrometers and systems, is pleased to announce that its Board of Directors has appointed Scott Baker as CEO, succeeding Dr. Andrew Boorn who is stepping down to pursue other interests.

“It has been an honour to serve as the CEO of Tornado and I am incredibly proud of everything the team has accomplished”, said Boorn. “We have made meaningful progress and Scott is the right person to build on this momentum.”

Scott Baker has a long track record of positioning start-up companies for a sustainable competitive edge. Scott joined Tornado Spectral Systems at its inception and has spearheaded the commercialization of its flagship HyperFlux PRO Plus Raman analyser product. Prior to Tornado, Scott held Executive and Senior Leadership positions at high tech start-up companies that were successfully acquired or completed an IPO including Fresco Microchip, Silicon Optix, and Genesis Microchip.

On being appointed Scott said, “I know that I speak for everyone at Tornado in thanking Andy for his leadership and wishing him the very best in his future endeavours. I look forward to continuing to promote our corporate fundamentals by delivering the very best quality product and service expected by our customers.”

About Tornado Spectral Systems:

Founded in 2013, Tornado Spectral Systems designs, manufactures, and sells chemical analysis & measurement systems based on Raman spectroscopy. Tornado’s HyperFlux spectrometers deliver significantly enhanced sensitivity by using a patented high-throughput virtual slit (HTVS™) to eliminate the physical slit of a conventional spectrometer and avoid signal losses while maintaining high spectral resolution, allowing for faster measurements, lower detection limits, and reduced laser power operation.
